

HOLLWEG REFUSES TO DISCUSS TERMS

German Chancellor Makes Vigorous Speech in the Reichstag

WOULD BE PREMATURE

Declares Statement of Peace Program Would Be No Practical Service To Nation

RESOLUTELY PROTESTS

BERLIN, May 15.—via London.—In one of the most vigorous and plain-spoken speeches he has yet made before the reichstag since the outbreak of the war the imperial German chancellor today bluntly refused to enter into a discussion of Germany's peace aims as demanded in interpellations by the Conservatives and Socialists.

Will Not Submit to Pressure.

Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg asserted that these called for the government's specific peace program, the announcement of which would at the present time not only be premature, but which it would be difficult to formulate, and also of no practical value to the nation in the present situation. While appreciating the sincere desire of all classes to see the government's views, the chancellor plainly declared he would not permit himself to be swayed by pressure from any source and that he was not under the spell of any party or clique. The best interests of the nation, he believed, demanded that the resistance he had imposed on himself in the face of continuous clamor since December, 1915, should be observed until the moment was ripe. He was sure that such a course would be endorsed by the nation at large, which continued to rally around its emperor and would also meet the views of the majority of the members of the reichstag.

The chancellor then briefly reviewed the present military situation and Germany's relations to the neutrals, in the course of which he warmly praised the attitude adopted by Spain.

Declines to State Terms.

"These interpellations demand from me a definite statement on the question of our war aims," said the chancellor. "To make such a statement at the present moment, would not serve the country's interests. I must therefore, decline to make it. Since the winter of 1914-15, I have been pressed now from one side, now from the other, publicly to state our war aims, if possible with details. Every day they were demanded from me. To force me to speak an attempt was made to construe my silence regarding the program of the war aims of individual parties as agreement.

"Against that I must again resolutely protest. On giving liberty to the free discussion of war aims, I had expressly declared that the government could not and would not participate in the conflict of views. I also protested against any positive conclusions whatever regarding the government's attitude being drawn from the government's silence. I now repeat this protest in the most conclusive form. What I was ever able to say about our war aims I said here in the reichstag publicly. They were general principles, they could not be more, but they were clear enough to exclude identification such as was attempted with other programs. These fundamental lines have been adhered to up today. They found further solemn expression in the peace offer made jointly with our allies of December 12, 1916.

Supposition a Fable.
"The supposition, which has recently arisen, that some differences of opinion existed on the peace question between us and our allies belongs to the realm of fable. I expressly affirm this now with certainty. I am at the same time, also expressing the conviction that the leading statesmen of the powers which are our allies are with us.

"I am thoroughly and fully understood the passionate interest of the people in the war aims and peace conditions. I understand the call for clearness which today is addressed to me from the right and left. But in the discussion of our war aims the only guiding line for me is the early and satisfactory conclusion of the war. Beyond that I cannot do or say anything.

"If the general situation forces me to reserve, as is the case now, I shall keep this reserve and no pressure either from Herr Scheidemann or Herr Roessicke will force me from my path. I shall not allow myself to be led astray by utterances with which Scheidemann at a time when drum fire sounds on the Aisne and at Arras, believed he would spread among the people the possibility of a revolution. The German people will be with me in condemning such utterances and also Roessicke's attempt to represent me as being un-

MAY HAVE PROSECUTION CITED FOR CONTEMPT

Attorneys Defending Iowa Minister Make Statement

Declare Publication of What They State was Evidence Brought Before the Grand Jury in Axe Murder Case is Ground for Action.

Red Oak, Iowa, May 15.—Attorneys defending Rev. Lynn George J. Kelly, who is charged with the October murder at Villisca, Iowa, in 1912, declared at a hearing here today that they would attempt to have the counsel for the prosecution cited for contempt of court because of the publication this morning of what they declared to have been evidence brought before the grand jury in the case.

The prosecution is being conducted by Attorney General H. M. Havener and County Attorney Oscar Wenstrand.

Judge Modifies Order.

Following arguments at the hearing on an order issued when the indictment was returned on April 30 that the defendant be removed to Des Moines for safe keeping, District Judge E. B. Woodruff today modified his order to provide that Kelly be lodged in the Harrison county jail at Logan, Iowa, until the time of the trial. It was thought probable he would be taken to Logan tonight. No date was set for the trial. Counsel for the defense protested against having Kelly taken to Des Moines on the grounds that proceedings to adjudge him insane might be rushed thru at the capital.

In stating that the defense would attempt to start contempt proceedings against the counsel for the prosecution, A. L. Sutton, former district judge of Omaha, Neb., who with Attorney W. E. Mitchell of Council Bluffs, Iowa, representing Kelly said that "grand jury evidence" appearing in morning papers today could have been obtained from only two sources. He cited these sources as the county attorney or the attorney general and said he did not hold the former responsible.

Kelly Appears Nervous.

Attorney General Havener, who was present at the hearing this morning when Kelly waived reading of the indictment and entered a plea of not guilty, arrived in time to appear at the afternoon session. Surrounded by scores of Red Oak townspeople and many Villisca citizens who packed the court room, Kelly this afternoon showed signs of nervousness. He had lost a part of the calmness which he exhibited earlier in the day when, in talking to newspapermen, he issued an emphatic denial of connection with the murders. Kelly is about 40 years old and has been known in this section since 1912, when he was assigned to various churches as a theological student from an Omaha seminary.

QUINCY, Ill., May 15.—Bucket shops, commission houses and cold storage plants may be put out of business in this city within a month. The city council last night passed a resolution calling for the framing of an ordinance making the conducting of these business illegal. The belief that the speculative business houses cause increase in food prices is the reason for the action. The resolution is expected to be introduced at next Monday night's meeting of the city council.

Officials declare they are unable to account for the large amount of ammunition and fire arms.

The raid today was carried at the instance of Lieut. Col. George W. Bell.

URGES "BUSINESS AS USUAL" IDEA

Armour Asserts Continuation of Prosperity in Spite of War Is Possible

NO OCCASION FOR ALARM

Packer Declares There is No Good Reason Why Business Should Be Depressed

WORK FOR EVERYBODY

CHICAGO, May 15.—Continuation of the prosperity of the country in spite of war and continuation without experiencing any temporary depression is possible if a business as usual program is adopted is the view of J. Ogden Armour, Chicago meat packer, member of the Illinois State Council of Defense and of the advisory commission of the Council for National Defense.

Business Activity Assured.

"The prompt adoption by the American people of 'business as usual' idea is going to enable this nation to prosecute war without experiencing a temporary depression such as England and France have recently recovered from," said Mr. Armour today discussing the economic condition of the country. "Modern war," he said, "requires the expenditure of huge sums of money and means maximum employment and high wages for all workers. Other conditions peculiar to this war make it certain that this nation will enjoy a period of business and industrial activity the like of which has never been seen and which is assured whether the war lasts several months or several years."

Speaking of the possibilities that over-cautiousness might result from war economy suggestions Mr. Armour said:

"There is some reason to believe that economy rules will be misapplied for awhile but conditions are such that the public will soon see if they have not already that there is no occasion whatever for them to become alarmed. They will have more money to spend than ever before and they will not find the things they want disappearing from the market."

Work at High Wages Plea.

"A continuation of the great prosperity that has ruled in this country for two years is assured. There is an abnormal demand for everything the workers of this country can grow or manufacture. There is work at high wages for every man and woman who wants work. The earning power of the people is restricted only by physical limitations, the buying power of the people is greater than ever before."

"There are certain guarantees of continued prosperity and of an ever widening scope to our business and industrial life."

"Under the civilian boards gathered together by the president to direct the great work of preparation this nation is going ahead, fortified against delay and mistakes thru the intelligent application of lessons learned in England and France. This applies to industry as well as war. There is abundant evidence that we are profiting from the experience of Europe and that our president and his advisors are going to prevent any industrial hitch such as preceded the prosperous business conditions now prevailing in the British Isles and in France."

Per Capita Wealth Greater.

"There is not one good reason why the business of this country should not proceed in its normal course and on ever increasing lines. There is not one reason why people should fear for the future or should permit themselves to be swayed from the certainty that they are on a sound financial basis. The per capita wealth of Americans today is greater than ever before—greater than that of the people of any nation at any time in the past or in the present. Our national wealth is past the wildest dreams of a few years ago."

"Labor is satisfactorily employed and at record wages. Every day that the war lasts will find a greater demand for the labor and the brains of the wage and salary earners of the United States. Certainty of work and certainty of wages are the prime factors of prosperity. They make prosperity certain."

"Whether the war ends tomorrow or whether it lasts indefinitely this much is certain: The United States having possession of approximately forty per cent of the world's supply of gold, the greatest natural resources and geographical isolation is certain to suffer less than any other nation in the war or in the whole world."

Does Not Mean Self-Denial.

"The nation has been advised to economize on food, economy means the intelligent use without waste. It does not call for self-denial. Economy was recommended to stop the waste of the $700,000,000 worth of food which goes into the garbage pail each year. There is no need for people to cease purchasing. There

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

The long awaited appearance before the reichstag of Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial German chancellor, has come, but he failed to disclose to the world what Germany's peace aims are. Not all the pressure that had been exerted by the Socialists and conservatives could wring from him any word concerning Germany's desires. He indicated that the time for an exposition of Germany's peace ideas was not ripe and that meantime the best interests of the nation demanded reticence.

With regard to the program of renunciations of annexation and indemnities, the chancellor declared he would not pursue such a policy which would enable Germany's enemies to prolong the war indefinitely without losses to themselves, and prove equivalent to the surrender of the future of Germany.

Of Russia, he said that if she desired to prevent further bloodshed and renounce her plan of conquest for herself, he did not doubt that an agreement between Germany and Russia could be obtained which would exclude every thought of aggression and which would leave nothing to sting and no discord.

The chancellor concluded by expressing the belief that Germany was approaching a satisfactory end of the war and that the time would come when she could negotiate with her enemies about her war aims and attain a peace from which the empire would rise again "strong, independent and unthreatened by its enemies, a bulwark of peace and labor."

What had everywhere been thought to be a commencement of a strong offensive by the Germans against the British along the Lens-St. Quentin line and the French from the region northwest of Soissons into Champagne apparently was only one of the sporadic counterattacks which the Germans have been throwing against the fronts since the spring offensive began.

Around Bellecourt the intensive fighting, which had been going on for more than a week continues unabated. Tuesday four attacks were launched by the Germans, their troops being in all of them except the last when they drove back the British in the western portion of the village for distance of 100 yards, in all the attacks the German casualties were extremely heavy.

Along the front held by the French artillery actions prevailed thruout Tuesday. The Italians have continued the offensive against the Austrians in the Isongo region along a front of nearly 25 miles. Following extremely heavy bombardments the Italians loosed their infantry in frontal attacks and made considerable progress at various points according to the Italian official statement.

Another success by the Venizelist troops, fighting side by side with the French forces in Macedonia, is reported by Paris.

"The brewers are a menace to the nation," he said, "and they ought therefore, to be interned."

DENY ILLINOIS ROADS PASSENGER RATE RAISE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 15.—Illinois railroads today were refused permission by the state public utilities commission to increase passenger rates between points in Illinois from 2 cents a mile, the rate fixed by statute, to 2.4 cents a mile. The roads, it is said, will appeal to the United States supreme court.

The interstate commerce commission recently ordered Illinois carriers to revise their passenger rates to avoid discrimination between St. Louis and East St. Louis and other Illinois points.

SEEKS SPEEDING UP OF WAR PROGRAM

President Emphasizes Necessity for Action on Food Control Bills

CONFERENCE GENERAL

Committeemen Go Away Prepared To Undertake Early Enactment of Laws

MAY REVISE BILLS

WASHINGTON, May 15.—President Wilson tonight began an effort to have congress speed up war legislation. At a white house conference with members of the senate and house agriculture committees he emphasized the imperative necessity for prompt action upon the food control legislation the administration believes is essential to the conduct of the war.

Reach no Specific Agreements.

The conference was general in character and no specific agreements were reached, but there were indications that the committeemen went away prepared to undertake early enactment of laws to prevent speculation in foods and to assure an equitable return to the producer and a fair price to the consumer.

The president explained that he was anxious to have the senate and house committees get together on a bill containing some of the more important measures of the legislation so that its passage could be expedited. There were suggestions that there had been much alarmist talk about food conditions. The president stated emphatically to those gathered about him that it would be difficult to express in parliamentary language what should be done with anyone who would speculate in food products in a situation like the present.

May Revise Measures.

The various bills now before congress probably will be revised into three measures to express definitely the ideas of the administration as to food control. The two house bills very nearly provide now what the administration believes is the best program.

The first Lever bill to provide a food survey and stimulate production probably will be left as it is. The second measure the so-called regulatory bill, probably will be changed to include the provisions of the Gore resolution calling for a controller general of food supplies. A third measure will propose preferential shipments for foodstuffs. This is provided in the regulatory bill, but both the president and Secretary Houston who was called into the conference thought preferential shipments are of vital importance and that this provision should be rushed thru with all possible haste.

Makes Intentions Clear.

Secretary Houston made clear the administration's intentions concerning price control. It is not intended, he pointed out, to fix maximum prices generally, but only in specific instances to force the unloading of hoarded stocks of food.

The president told the committeemen that in his opinion the three factors that will control the war situation are the order of their importance are the actual fighting forces control of the food situation and control of the transportation facilities of the country. He opened the conference with the statement that he had called the meeting to discuss food control but the talk soon branched out into other lines.

SOCIALIST CONFERENCE MAY BE POSTPONED

COPENHAGEN, May 14, via London, May 15.—According to the Politiken, the bureau for the proposed neutral peace conference will probably issue a statement that the International Socialist Conference at Stockholm, is scheduled to open tomorrow, is postponed. The paper says that great dissatisfaction prevails among the delegates and that one member reports that the situation has become more complicated in the last twenty-four hours.

The news that the German Independent Socialists have been refused passports is expected to cause the bureau to refuse to negotiate with the Scheidemann group.

WANT MECHANICS FOR FOREIGN SERVICE.

New York, May 15.—The Aero Club of America announced today it had received a call from the war department for mechanics, experts in as explosion, engineers who are willing to enlist in the aviation division of the United States army for foreign service. ISSUES APPEAL TO TEUTON SOCIALISTS

Russ Council of Workmen and Soldiers Takes Action

SEEK INTERFERENCE

Want Socialists to Prevent Troops Crushing France and Dashing On Russia

CONDITIONS CHAOTIC

PETROGRAD, May 15.—via London.—The council of workmen and soldier's delegates today issued an appeal to the Socialists of Germany and Austria to prevent their troops from being hurled against the western front in order to crush France and then dash to Russia. So far as it is possible to present any definite picture of the whirling maelstrom of events, of which Petrograd is the storm center, the situation today is as follows:

The conflict between the temporary government and Council of Workmen and Soldiers' Deputies is nearer solution than it has been since the revolution but the disorganization, almost anarchy, has reached such proportions that it seems extremely doubtful whether the belated reconciliation of the two forces which have been pulling in opposite directions can re-create order out of the present chaotic conditions for a considerable time at least. The council's appeal to the army and its recent decision to accept part of the responsibility of government by the formation of a coalition ministry testify to its willingness to co-operate with the provisional government.

Endorse Government's Point.

The deputies which have declared themselves strongly against a separate peace and in favor of conducting a vigorous offensive war against an army which is "in the grip of German imperialism" have in fact completely endorsed the point of the government which has been attempting since its formation to warn the country against the danger of ceasing active military operations or considering a premature peace which would sacrifice all the country has gained by the revolution and discredit Russia in the eyes of the world.

But the movement among the masses of soldiers and workmen who have misunderstood the exhortations of their representatives and have far outstripped the most advanced ideas of their Socialist leaders has gained such impetus that it will not easily follow the altered course of the deputies.

Germans Not Successful.

Washington, May 15.—On the eve of the departure of the American commission lead by Elihu Root, the state department has received advices from Petrograd that the German government is not meeting with success in efforts to intrigue and propaganda to break down the Russian provisional government and bring Russia to a separate peace or lessen her military effectiveness.

Hope is felt here that in spite of unfavorable developments, the provisional government not only will stand firm with its understanding with its allies, but will still continue to prosecute with vigor its plans for setting up a permanent democratic government.

Two months must elapse before the commissioners can reach Petrograd. In that time it is hoped that the work of establishing a government will be well under way.

WORK COMPULSORY

That we are to have compulsory service in the army, has prompted Senator Dunlap to introduce a bill in our legislature providing that all men between the ages of 19 and 30 in this state, during the period of the war with Germany would be compelled to find some useful employment or go to jail. There might be some overworked fellows, so that an amendment has been proposed providing for a work house penalty.

TODAY IS THE TIME

In these troublous days time has never been so valuable as now, energy at 100 per cent efficiency never so desirable as now. Stop the folly of bemoaning what has passed. Soak into your system that old saying about the mill never grinding with the water that has gone. Use the past only for the strength it brings you, for the wisdom it has given you, for the lessons it has taught. And for everything else, forget it. Then do your part for the good of all, living for today, and the days to come.

SLANDERING THE PIG

That was a very vigorous and timely denunciation of the greed that fattens on the people's patriotism which Assistant Secretary Newton of the treasury uttered the other day. The prices of American flags have doubled, and in some cases tripled, since the declaration of war. Manufacturers were prompt to seize on the universal desire of citizens to display the national colors as an opportunity to pile up exorbitant profits. They put a 100 to 200 per cent penalty on patriotism. "I don't know what can be done about it, but I am going to make an effort," Assistant Secretary Newton declares. "I believe at this time it is the duty of every American citizen, where he discovers the fingers of the pickpocket or the snout of the pig entering the pocket of the patriotic public, to use every legitimate means to expose said pig or pickpocket without hesitation or timidity."

These words will meet with a hearty response from the public, and if Attorney General Gregory, to whom the case of the greedy flag manufacturers has been referred, can find the means of curbing their rapacity, it will be a good start in the important work of suppressing graft in connection with the war. In this time of national stress there can be no tolerance of pickpockets.

DRILLING THE CHINESE

A Columbus, N. M., telegram says a Chinese regiment is being drilled in the United States which could answer a call to the colors at any time if China should declare war on Germany. The regiment is composed of the Chinese refugees from Mexico who accompanied General Pershing's troops out of the southern republic. As the exclusion act prohibited them from being admitted to the United States, they were given asylum here and are being fed by the Chinese Relief Society formed by the Chinese tongs of San Francisco. As these Chinese refugees have no work to do they have been formed into military companies by Major Parker, of the local military command, and they are put through daily drills, using sticks for guns. The Chinese have become proficient in the manual of arms and the more simple drills and make a presentable appearance while at drill.

A POPULAR BOND ISSUE

Reports from Washington of how the subscriptions of the people have been rolling in for the two-billion war loan should not lead any possible subscriber to think that his money is not needed. It is the history of such loans that the big subscriptions come in the early stages and give at the outset an impressive aggregate which must be rounded later to the necessary total by a multiplicity of smaller subscriptions. A vigorous campaign for small subscriptions should be conducted throughout the nation. The loan is an excellent test for preaching same thrift and practical loyalty. The educational value of the campaign will not be its least important feature. Moreover, we ought to make sure that this initial loan is far oversubscribed as an evidence to ourselves and the world that we are in the war to the last necessary dollar. Jacksonville should do its part. To subscribe for a $50 bond, payable in installments as it is, makes a splendid savings investment, and it would sound great to be able to say that one is a bond holder—a government bond.

WHY NOT WOMEN COOKS?

War should offer an opportunity for display of woman's particular genius and talent, other than that of nursing. If our experience is that of England's, there will soon be a cry for female cooks in training camps. During the early period of the war British soldiers nearly starved with plenty all about them, and there was a notorious shortage of food products due to the ignorance of well intentioned, but untrained cooks. Have we forgotten Hugh's inimitable letter to Mr. Britling telling of the trials of the commissariat in securing the proper preparation of food? Meat furnished the great problem to the volunteer chefs. It was served in all kinds of ways but the proper one, with the natural result that it could not be eaten. Wrote Hugh bluntly, "We buried meat." If the training camp waste barge cans are not to scandalize the advocates of conservation, we ought to apply the remedy and anticipate the evil. Fortunately the government has the power which England did not have to draft skilled cooks. Nevertheless, some practical housewives might fill as important a place as would drill masters during the mobilization period.

BROTHER AGAINST BROTHER

An editorial in the Omaha Nebraska tells this story of how brother fought brother in the battle of Antietam.

The Union and the confederate armies were pitted against one another in one of the hottest of contests. It happened that the First Maryland, Confederate States of America, and the First Maryland, United States of America, were directly confronting one another. Brothers all, yet they poured shot and shell into one another's ranks. The Union forces were pushed so hard that the commanding officer ordered a retreat. The command was obeyed by all but the First Maryland, U. S. A. When a staff officer galloped to the colonel of that regiment and asked why he did not obey the order to fall back the First Maryland (U. S. A.) colonel replied: "My compliments to the commanding officer, and tell him that the First Maryland, U. S. A., is directly in front of us, and we cannot, in honor, fall back."

This story is set forth upon one of the monuments of the battle field at Antietam. It should be set down now in the hearts of those Americans of German blood who say that they cannot be expected to fight those in whose veins German blood flows. As the Nebraska adds: "That was the spirit which animated thousands of Union men of southern birth. It is the spirit which must animate all Americans, regardless of birth or ancestry. A man who does not place his ties of country above his ties of blood is not worthy of the name 'American citizen.' Indeed, he is not an American citizen, and he does not belong under this flag."

HONOR THE VETERANS

Arrangements being made by members of the Grand Army of the Republic for the observance of Memorial day in this city, include an automobile parade to the cemeteries. Every auto owner in the city should be glad and proud to tender his machine to the gray haired men whose record of service to their country is a source of pride to every loyal, patriotic citizen of Jacksonville and Morgan county. Do your "bit" by assisting in making this memorial service a memorable one. These veterans have had their day of marching. Age has crept on them and many yet suffer from wounds and hardships endured. Let us show them honor by providing conveyances by which all old veterans may be enabled to visit the last resting place of their comrades who have gone. In years past the decoration of the graves has been done only by committees from their ranks—many being unable to endure the strain of a march. Let Jacksonville auto owners see that there are plenty of comfortable conveyances this year. Decorate your machine with flags and tender it to the G. A. R. committee for that occasion.

In this connection Bloomington papers say that one of the biggest automobile parades ever planned is being arranged in connection with the grand encampment of Illinois, Grand Army of the Republic, which will be held in Bloomington Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, June 6, 7 and 8. The reviewing stand will be erected at the head of Prairie street near Wesleyan university where high officers of the state G. A. R. will be stationed. Addresses are scheduled by Governor Lowden, Lieutenant Governor Oglesby, Adjutant-General Dickson, Speaker Shanahan of the Illinois house of representatives, and W. J. Patterson, national commander in chief of the grand army. Details of the program have not yet been completed but acceptances have been received from these speakers. Camp fires will be held at 7:30 o'clock on the nights of June 6 and 7.

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

Spring Days
The farmer wields the plow, the milkman wields the cow; the lambkins play, the horses neigh, and all is joyful now. Tho there be talk of scraps, and changing of the maps, the world is fine, the air like wine, and life's the best of snaps. Tho war clouds gather near, we need not yield to fear; enjoy the spring, and smile and sing—no carnage yet is here. We pack our trusty traps, and go on joyous trips, to scenes afar, in our good car, which o'er the highway skips. When Mars begins his stunt, and shows his wrinkled front, we'll grab with glee the snickersnee, and for the foe men hunt. When comes the martial fuss, there are no flies on us; we'll slay and slay, ten hours a day, and whoop around and cuss. Put, till our captains all stand up and cry, "Play ball," we'll dance and sing, for gentle spring sends forth her cheerful call. Oh, friends, don't borrow woe! Be happy here below! Why groan and brood o'er some punk grief that you may never know?

LIEUT. FRINK EXPLAINED WYOMING TRAINING PLAN

Military Man From Chicago Made Illuminating Address at High School Tuesday Night—Good Results Come From Correlating the Training with the Educational System.

A very appreciative audience gathered Tuesday night at the High School Auditorium to attend a meeting of the High School Parent Teachers association and listen to an address by Lieut. J. L. Frink of Chicago on "The Wyoming Idea in Military Training." Lieut. Frink is director of military training work in the Chicago schools.

The address was especially timely at the present owing to the demands for men to carry on the great undertaking of war. The speaker is eminently capable in his line and was an interesting speaker. The talk was illustrated by a large series of moving pictures and accompanied by suitable explanations so that it was exceedingly instructive and entertaining throughout. The life and work of the soldier were graphically depicted on the screen almost from beginning to end. Companies performing all manner of evolutions were portrayed while the more prosaic work of the country's defenders was ably depicted. There were trenches, the men digging them and later occupying them, the drills of the soldiers, the rifle range and firing, all the many scenes of camp life so well known to the men of military training, were depicted.

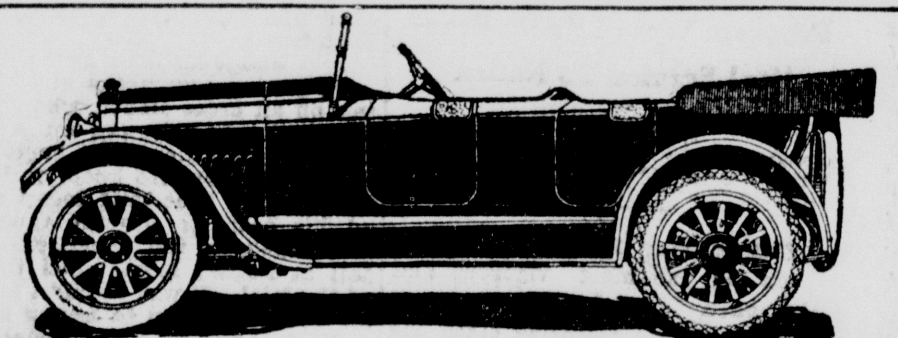

Some Excellent Results
The speaker also told of the excellent results that had attended military training in schools and institutions of learning and explained the conditions on which arms and assistance can be obtained from the government though the rules in that respect are being changed so constantly that matters are much at sea at present.

Miss Loretta Piepenbrink very ably recited a humorous selection, "Joint Owners in Spain," which was well received.

The thanks of the organization were tendered Lieutenant Frink for his excellent lecture and Mr. Pease for the use of his machine, for the moving pictures and his services in managing it.

ment was tried in the high schools of Wyoming and the results were very beneficial. The idea has taken hold so rapidly that it has now been inaugurated in the following cities: Kansas City and St. Joseph, Missouri; Denver, Colorado; Louisville, Kentucky; Muscatine, Iowa; Detroit, Michigan; Rockford, Elgin, Freeport, Waukegan, Oak Park, Paris, Ottawa, Blue Island and Chicago, Illinois; La Porte, Michigan City and Crawfordsville, Indiana.

Details of the Plan
Under the Wyoming plan the cadets are uniformed and under regular military discipline, and are furnished with rifles and other equipment by the government. The work includes instruction in the use and care of arms and of themselves on the march and in camp. Then studies are given in minor tactics, there are open air drills, target designation, signaling, trench maneuvers, etc. The other training is such that at the conclusion a boy is well fitted to undertake regular military training and will much more quickly make a better soldier than is true of the lad without such training.

But the best result obtained is the physical development which comes thru such a course. Whether or not a student becomes a soldier, this training is invaluable. The plan includes a certain amount of competitive team work which helps in the interest in the system. The work as applied to girls makes them members of the cadet organization and they attend drills and social functions connected with the organization. They are assigned to squads and while they do not actual drill work, they are so identified with the organization that they have just as much interest as the boys in the medals or ribbon awarded for excellence in conduct of for such special victory.

er the influence of the Social Democrats.

In Hands of No Party.
"I am reproached for being in the hands of one party, but I am not in the hands of any party, either the right or the left. I am glad I can state that definitely. If I am in the hands of any one I am in the hands of my people, whom alone I have to serve and all of whose sons, fighting for the existence of the nation are firmly ranged round the Kaiser whom they trust and who trusts them. The Kaiser's word of August lives unaltered. Roosevelt, who sets himself forward as a particular protector of this word, has received in the Kaiser's Easter message the assurance of the unaltered existence of the Kaiser's word."

"Even today I see no readiness for peace on the part of England or France, nothing of the abandonment of their excessive aims of conquest and economic destruction. Where then were the governments who last winter openly stood up before the world in order to terminate this insane slaughter of peoples? Were they in London or in Paris? The most recent utterances which I have heard from London declare that the war aims which were announced two years ago remain unaltered."

"Even Herr Scheidemann will not believe that I could meet this declaration with a beau geste. Does anyone believe, in view of the state of mind of our western enemies, that they could be induced to conclude peace by a program of renunciation?"

"It comes to this: shall I immediately give our western enemies an assurance which will enable them to prolong the war indefinitely without danger of losses to themselves? Shall I tell these enemies: 'Come what may, we shall under all circumstances be people who renounce; we shall not touch the hair of your head. But you who want our lives, you can, without any risks, continue to try your luck?'"

"Shall I nail down the German empire in all directions by a one-sided formula which only comprises one part of the total peace conditions and which renounces successes won by the blood of our sons and brothers and leaves all other matters in suspense?"

Would he Renounce Ingratitude.
"No, I will not pursue such a policy. That would be the basest ingratitude toward the heroic deeds of our people at the front and at home. It would permanently press down our people, to the smallest worker, in their entire conditions of life. It would be equivalent to surrendering the future of the fatherland."

Or ought I, conversely, to set forth a program of conquest? I decline to do that. I am not in the right, 'we are not demanding that'. If it has not been demanded, then we are of one opinion."

"I also decline to set forth a program of conquest. We did go forth to war and we stand in battle now against almost the whole world, not in order to make conquests, but exclusively to secure our existence and to establish firmly the future of the nation. The program of conquests helps as little as a program of reconciliation to win victory and the war. On the contrary, I should thereby merely play the game of the hostile rulers and make it easier for them further to delude their weary peoples into prolonging the war immeasurably. This too, would be base ingratitude toward our warriors near Arras and the Aisne."

"As regards our eastern neighbor, Russia, I have already recently spoken. It appears as if new Russia has declined for herself these violent plans of conquest. Whether Russia will or can act in the same sense on her allies I am unable to estimate. Doubtless England with the assistance of her allies is employing all her efforts to keep Russia harnessed to England's war chariot and to traverse Russian wishes for the speedy restoration of the world's peace."

Speaks of Russian Peace.
"If, however, Russia wants to prevent further bloodshed and renounces all violent plans of conquest for herself, if she wishes to restore durable relations of peaceful life side by side with us then surely it is a matter course that we, as we share this wish, will not disturb the permanent relationship in the future and will not render its development impossible by demands which in deed do not accord with the freedom of nations and would deposit in the Russian nation the germ of enmity. (Thunderous applause)."

"I doubt not that an agreement, aiming exclusively at a mutual understanding, could be attained, which excludes every thought of oppression and which would leave behind no sting and no discord. Our military position has never been so military position has never been so terrible as the one which, despite his terrible losses, cannot break through our U-boats are operating with increasing success. I won't use any fine words about them, the deeds of our U-boat men speak for themselves. I think even the neutrals will recognize that."

"So far as compatible with our duty toward our own people who come first, we take into account the interests of the neutral states. The concessions which we have made to them are not empty promises. That is the case in regard to our frontier neighbors, Holland and Scandinavia, as well as those states which on account of their geographical position are especially greatly exposed to enemy pressure."

This resulted in indignant repudiation by a large section of the house and Herr Scheidemann hastened to say it had not gone so far as that yet. Herr Ledebour, however, declared that a Republic must soon be established in Germany and that his party would propose that a constitutional committee take preparatory steps in that direction.

A motion to end the debate was lost after which the middle road parties made up of the Centrists, National Liberals, Progressive Peoples' and German Fraction presented a joint declaration approving the chancellor's attitude.

is seen only for the elimination of extravagances and waste. There is no reason whatever for curtailment of the use of things ordinarily needed by people. There is need that everything be put to use.

"As patriots it is our duty to stop the wastage of food, as patriots, it is equally important that we do not stop the ordinary purchasing, on which the business and the industry of the country are founded. Hysterical economy is as much a menace to the nation as is prodigal waste. Faith is the great need of the people today. Faith in providence to lend might to our right, faith in nature to respond bountifully to the wonderful efforts of our agriculturists to increase food supply to provide a surplus for our allies, and faith in our government which has taken hold of the problems before it in a way that demonstrated that it is deserving of our faith."

"If I were asked," Mr. Armour concluded, "to give a message to the American people—to the farmer, the wage earners, the merchants and the manufacturers and all—it would be this:

"Be strong in your faith that nature will reward the efforts being made to produce big crops and cooperate with our president which has taken hold of the problems before it in a way that demonstrated that it is deserving of our faith."

Make business proceed as usual."

SOCIAL EVENTSBirthday Party for Mr. Little.

Also refreshments consisting of candy, oranges and cigars. Those who helped serve were the Misses Ada Story, Elsie Lear and Nellie Sandman.

One Present.

Bridge Party for Miss Brown.

Mrs. Charles W. Brown entertained Tuesday afternoon at her home 215 Webster avenue, with Miss Anna P. Brown as the honor guest. It was a bridge party with four tables playing. The very tasty decorations were suggestive of the spring season and the refreshments were served in a manner which carried out this same idea.

Rosary Hill Home, Hawthorne, N. Y.—"I have used Vinol for many run-down, weak or emaciated patients with benefit. One young woman was so weak and ill she could not get out of bed. I supplied Vinol to her liberally and in a month I hardly recognized her. She was strong, her color charming and her cheeks rosy. MATRIMONIALMallen-Groves.

The marriage of John William Mallen, son of Mrs. Ellen Mallen, and Miss Alma Groves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Groves, was solemnized Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock at the Church of Our Savior, the Rev. F. F. Formaz officiating in the presence of a large number of the friends of the bridal couple. After the ceremony, wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride and shortly afterwards the young people left on an Alton train for Chicago and the great lakes.

Both young people are well known in Jacksonville and their marriage will be the occasion of countless words of congratulation. The groom is a young man of industrious habits and pleasing personality. In a business way he has been steadily successful, having for the past few years been associated with the firm of J. J. Mallen & Son. The bride's personality of winning frankness has won her friends on every hand. After graduation from the high school at Franklin, where her home had theretofore been, she came to Jacksonville and for a time took musical instruction at the Woman's college, studying with Prof. W. P. Phillips.

The couple were attended by Miss Marie Rexroat and Frank Clancy. The wedding march was played by Miss Alice Brown, instructor in music at Routh college. The bride wore a lovely gown of blue serge, with gloves and shoes of the same color, and a hat of white. Her bridesmaid was clad in a suit of silk pongee of champagne shade.

The Groves home was prettily decorated for the luncheon, which was served in four courses to about twenty-five friends. In the dining room the colors were green and white, in the living room pink roses were employed and in the hall and parlor purple lilacs were used to charming effect. A large wedding cake was cut and the tokens were found as follows: Ring, Miss Anna Deters; dime, Mrs. F. W. Bolton, needle, J. W. Mallen, and thimble, Mrs. Mallen.

No little merriment was afforded by the attempt of the young couple to escape undetected. Leaving by automobile they made their way to Sinclair and took the train. Some of their friends had anticipated the move and were already on the train to welcome them.

Upon completion of their wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Mallen will return to Jacksonville and will be at home after June 1 at 239 Prospect street.

Dodsworth-Pennington.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Dodsworth of Macomb arrived Tuesday for a visit with Mr. Dodsworth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Dodsworth, 619 South East street.

To many friends of the groom the announcement of his marriage will come with surprise as the news had not been generally known. The bride, Miss Esther M. Pennington, is one of Macomb's most charming young women. Her friends were taken by surprise also, for, the approaching wedding was known, a time had not been announced and guests were invited to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Pennington, with the understanding that they were to attend an evening party. When, therefore, about fifty friends of the young couple had assembled for the evening Monday, May 14, announcement of the nuptials was made and at the hour of nine, the Rev. W. T. Rogers, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, spoke the words which united the lives of the two young people. The ring service was used and after the ceremony a wedding supper was served.

The bride is one of the proprietors of the Princess theatre of Macomb. She is a young woman of talent, holding a prominent place in the musical circles of her home city. Mr. Dodsworth is in the undertaking business, having employment in the establishment of J. S. Hainline. He expects later to join the hospital corps of the U. S. army.

After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Dodsworth will be at home at 329 Dudley street, Macomb. They will remain for a visit of several days at the R. W. Dodsworth home and will return to Macomb about June 1.

Jacksonville Chapter No. 3, R. A. M., will hold a special convocation Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Work in M. M. degree. Visiting companions welcome.

E. C. Ramsdell, E. H. P. John R. Phillips, Sec'y.

Funeral services for Mrs. Elvira P. Brock will be held at the residence of her niece, Mrs. David Davis, 321 North Jackson street, Litchfield, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Dr. L. B. Fisher of Ryder Divinity School, University of Chicago, will officiate. The following obituary of Mrs. Brock has been prepared by relatives:

Elvira Perley Gage Brock was born in Georgetown, Mass., October 26, 1837. Her father, Mm. J. Gage, was a pioneer, coming to Illinois in 1838. When two years of age she came with her mother to Columbia, Ill., crossing the Alleghany Mountains by stage, and by boat to St. Louis, a trip of six weeks. Her parents later moved to St. Louis and afterwards to Rockridge, Litchfield and Greencastle.

They were living in Litchfield during the Civil War and Mr. Gage was owner of a mill which stood on the Planet Mill site. Mrs. Brock was a graduate of the Methodist Female College, now known as the Woman's College at Jacksonville under President Jacques and she won the affection and admiration of her teachers and classmates for her bright intellect and nobility of character. The following year she taught in Carrollton and the next two in Decatur and then accepted a position at the State School for the Deaf under Dr. Philip G. Gillette in Jacksonville.

She deceased was married to Marquis L. Brock September 4, 1871, at Greencastle, Ind.; lived two years in Philadelphia and then returned to Jacksonville, where she made her home until last August when she came to Litchfield to spend her remaining days with her sister, Mrs. Beach, and her niece, Mrs. Davis.

She passed away at 2 o'clock Monday morning, May 14, 1917, and will be laid to rest in Elmwood cemetery at Litchfield. She was a person of rarely beautiful character, feeling keen sympathy for those in trouble, loving every one and seeing beauty in everything. She was by nature extremely social and hospitable and was beloved by all who knew her.

IS USING OIL INSTEAD OF COAL.
At the present price of coal O. N. Barr figures that oil is cheaper fuel and he is using it under the boilers of his laundry on West Court street. Mr. Barr has had some experience with oil burners before, so that it is not an experiment with him now. In addition to saving $1 or more a day in his fuel supply, there are certain advantages in the laundry work being free from annoyance from coal dust and smoke. In addition the trouble of looking after an oil burner is very small by comparison with firing a boiler with coal. The oil Mr. Barr is burning is coming from one of wells about five or six miles east of Jacksonville.

MINISTERIAL INDUSTRY.
Not long since a prominent minister of the city was recommending men of his cloth to get to work on the soil to help feed the people so Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick the worthy pastor of the West District circuit decided that faith without works is dead. So he shouldered his spade dug up fourteen rods of ground along a wire fence, reclaiming land which otherwise would not have been used and planted butter beans in the pulverized soil and he will watch them eagerly.

LEFT FOR CHICAGO.
Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Day and children left last night for Chicago. They are expecting to spend an extended vacation period in the east before Dr. Day again locates for the practice of his profession.

BURIAL IN KANSAS.

The funeral of Joy M. Smith was held Tuesday at the farm home near Herington, Kan., and interment was in a nearby cemetery.

PARK BOARD HELD IT'S WEEKLY SESSION

All Business Considered Was Routine in Character—To Receive Bids for Central Park Work—To Hurry Work at First Ward Play Grounds.

The park board met in regular session last evening with all members present. Minutes of previous meetings were read and approved and all bills properly approved were ordered paid.

A bill of $25.69 for interest on deferred bills was one of the items presented. A request for use of the ball park Sundays till June was denied as the board had already made a contract with other parties. The death of William Nunes, surety on the bond of Mr. Baptist, sidewalk contractor, was suggested and the fact that it would be binding on his estate was deemed sufficient.

Mrs. Wehl reported several defective spots in the concrete sidewalk on the south side of Duncan park and they were ordered repaired by Mr. Baptist while he is at work in that vicinity. Mrs. Hollinger reported that the plans for the monkey house had been sent by DeVry, the keeper of animals in Lincoln park, Chicago, for suggestions and they had not been returned.

G. A. Sieber was present and presented blue prints and specifications for the proposed electric lights and improvements electrically in Central park and after considerable discussion they were adopted with some modifications and bids for the same will be solicited.

Some lumber bought for the Nichols park bridge floor was left over and Custodian Kelly was instructed to return it to the Crawford Lumber Co., from whom it was bought.

Mr. Gomes reported progress in efforts to get the apparatus in the first ward playground installed and said he fully expected to have a conference with a man on that subject the next evening and he was urged to hurry up the work as school would soon be out.

Custodian Kelly was instructed to secure concrete drain tile for certain places where the roadways need draining and have them installed at once.

Mrs. Wehl reported her inability to get the man who had promised to have the well at Duncan park to do the work though she had made repeated efforts and she was instructed to use her best judgment in getting some one else to attend to the matter. She also reported the swings in Duncan park in poor condition. It was suggested that material had been bought with which to make good apparatus and when the work is done in the first ward playground the same in Duncan park will have immediate attention by the same man.

The chair reported a hand lawn mower bought for Nichols park.

NEW GYMNASIUM OPENED AT WOMAN'S COLLEGE

AFFORDS BEST OF FACILITIES FOR PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT AND FOR RECREATION

Completion of Building Marks the Fulfillment of a Vision of Twenty-Four Years, Stated Pres. Harker—Irish Program Presented by Dramatic Club—Many Inspect Edifice.

The new gymnasium at Illinois Woman's college was formally opened for use Tuesday evening. In the presence of an assembly which quite filled the large auditorium, Dr. Joseph R. Harker, president of the college, gave utterance to the trials and hopes of many years, describing the completion of this useful edifice as the fruition of a plan envisioned long ago.

The program of plays presented by the Dramatic club of the college, embodied well the spirit of modern Irish drama. The glee club assisted with appropriate numbers and after the entertainment opportunity was given visitors to inspect the building, with its many valuable features as a place for systematic physical development and for recreation as well.

To Dr. Harker and to other friends who have watched the progress of the college thru its years of sturdy growth, the moment was one of deep impressiveness. To many it seemed "too good to be true" that the often wished for gymnasium building was at last a thing of reality. Loud was the applause when announcement came that two persons were present who had a large share in the early completion of the work. Several years ago Mr. and Mrs. Ira B. Blackstock of Springfield gave assurance that they would furnish the funds for a swimming pool whenever a gymnasium should be erected. For a pool which stands unequalled among colleges of the state, I. W. C. has these generous friends to thank, said Dr. Harker in the course of his address of welcome and of dedication.

The Irish Plays.

The three plays given were well chosen in point of variety. "A Pot of Broth" by William Butler Yeats, was a comedy act, full of wit and intensely human. In J. M. Synge's "Riders to the Sea" there was introduced the touch of that strong belief in supernatural power which has been the heritage of the Irish race during centuries of hardship and injustice. "Counsel Retained", by Constant D'Arcy Mackay, was a comedy of more serious thought than the first, an apt selection for the closing number of so excellent a program.

The music was a pleasing part of the entertainment. Mr. Jessen and Miss Robinson gave as the opening number "Brahm's Hungarian Dance" responding to hearty encore with a second duet selection. Between each play the glee club sang and at the last, Mrs. Hartmann, the leader, called upon the audience to rise and sing the opening stanza of the "Star Spangled Banner".

To the unremitting work of Miss Margaret Constance, head of the department of expression and to her assistant, Miss Millicent Rowe, is due much credit for the dramatic ability displayed by each of the players.

Following are the casts of the three Irish plays:

A Pot of Broth.

A Beggarman, Maurine Mosenbocker
John Conneely Ruth Harker
Sibby Conneely Frances Sence

The Vision's Fulfillment

"The vision that has been before us in all the twenty-four years of unceasing but happy effort since we came to the Illinois Woman's college," said Dr. Harker, "is of an institution in Jacksonville equipped for the complete preparation of young women for every need of their lives, intellectually, socially, spiritually, and physically. That the Illinois Woman's College shall be a center for all that is highest and best in a woman's life, and shall afford preparation for leadership in every line of woman's work and service. Especially I have labored that for the women of Jacksonville the college may be an inspiration to the highest womanly ideals, and also a well equipped center for the realization of these ideals."

"Each year has seen a nearer approach to this vision effort since we of the Main Building in 1902 gave us class rooms and science laboratories. The Music Hall in 1906 gave us unusual equipment for Music, Art, and Expression. Harker Hall in 1909 gave us room for the Home Economics. Dr. Strawn's gift last summer gave us much needed library expansion. Thus these years we have longed for better equipment for physical work, and have dreamed and dreamed about an adequate gymnasium. At last our dream has come true. Last Commencement the first sods for the building were turned by Bishop W. S. Lewis, the Commencement orator, and our own beloved trustee, Mr. Edmund Blackburn. When a boy Mr. Blackburn helped to haul lumber for the first college building in 1849. The first brick was laid by Mrs. Harker, Aug.

29, 1916, and the Corner Stone was laid by the honored President of the Board of Trustees, Dr. T. J. Pitner, September 21st.

"Now the building is completed. In appearance, design and construction it is a credit to the architect, J. K. C. Pierson, of this city. The contractors have we believe done faithful work. It is well adapted to its purposes. The ample fireplace will help make it a most cheerful social room; its spacious stage, and large seating capacity will make it useful as a playroom and for general meetings; the gymnasium floor, for regular work and basket ball and other games, is also arranged for roller skating; the bowling alley and above all the beautiful swimming pool, all combine to make it a joy and delight, a constant source of pleasure and advantage to students of the present and the coming years.

"Larger Gifts Needed. I am sure you will pardon me if I pause just long enough to say that to secure all these college advantages has already required the gifts of many friends. More than $500,000 have been invested for these purposes. To maintain the standard already set and adequately to meet the increasing demands of the coming years, will require as much more in the near future. The College has no resources except the hearts of its friends. These have been generous, some to the point of sacrifice. Our dependence for the present, is in a continuance of gifts. Our hope for the future is that the friends will be multiplied, and that their gifts will increase. Many friends have made small gifts. These are always appreciated, and I wish hundreds of them would give something every year. But larger gifts are a necessity, and I have believed for more than twenty years that we have some friends somewhere who will give us each from $50,000 up to even a quarter of a million. I have frequently said that I believe that such friends are now living, and that, like America before Columbus, they are waiting to be discovered. Let us all hope and pray that the time of finding is at hand."

ROODHOUSE HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES LARGE CLASS

Twenty-seven Finish Course This Year—Biggest Number in School's History—Jacksonville People Attend Exercises

Several unusual features attended the 1917 graduating exercises of Roodhouse high school, when the largest class in the history of the institution was graduated.

Mrs. George Corbridge, Jr., of this city, was present at the exercises. Mrs. Corbridge is a sister of George Arnold, a former Jacksonville resident. George Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Arnold, was one of the graduates.

In the class of twenty-seven there were thirteen boys and fourteen girls, to the credit of Roodhouse high school, it is recorded that the class had held together with but little loss during the four years of the course.

Appeared in Military Garb

Again, it was the first time in the history of Roodhouse high school and probably the first time in the history of any high school in Greene county that graduates appeared upon the rostrum garbed in the regulation uniform of Uncle Sam's army and being a part of the military forces of the United States. There were two of these, George Arnold and Verne Stuart, members of the 1917 class, who have now been for several weeks in camp at Louisiana, Mo., enlisted in Co. B, 5th Ill. infantry.

These circumstances were in a measure responsible for the large attendance at the church, there being about four hundred people present.

President C. R. Thomas made a few appropriate remarks prior to the presentation of diplomas and a hearty applause filled the church when, as he handed to the two soldier boys their documentary evidence of having successfully completed high school work, he inserted a tiny American flag in the end of their diplomas as they approached to receive them.

The Class Role

The graduates are Harold Grimes Amos, Harry Benjamin Strang, Frieda Pearl Arnold, Harold Kenneth Pellett, William Lynn Kincaid, Gilbert B. Todd, Meda Mercedes Anderson, Irah Mae Lewis, Esther Bryman, Bessie Lee Griffiths, Elmer Russell Smith, Russell Ogley Deck, Ceila Mae Ralston, Mabel Carmean, Ethelyn Andrews, Ruby Cathryn Mitchell, Mildred Elozan McQuown, Eliza Kennedy, Martha Ann Smith, George Dewey Arnold, Verne Lang Stuart, John Anderson Everett, Kenneth Biers Ford, Virgil Gay Rawlins, William Wesley Merrill, Lora Mabel Hopkins, Helen Virginia Strang.

CULTIVATING SMALL GRAIN

A gentleman informed the Journal that in England the experiment of cultivating small grain has been made with gratifying success. Instead of sowing broadcast or in drill rows a few inches apart they make the rows ten inches apart and cultivate between them adding much to yield of grain. The gentleman said he was making the experiment on a small scale and would report his success.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. McCarty came down to the city from Litchberry yesterday in their interstate car and were welcome guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Nichols.

James Johnson of Arcadia was a caller in the city yesterday.

Edward Bradley of Woodson was a business visitor in the city Tuesday.

W. J. BRADY'S HOME IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Property and Furnishings Loss Will Be Around $100—A. M. Upham
Owner of Dwelling

Fire Tuesday morning resulted in heavy damage to the home of W. J. Brady on Sandusky street. The property is owned by Abner M. Upham now of Des Moines, Iowa, and has been occupied by Mr. Brady and family for a number of years. It was about 11 o'clock in the morning that Mrs. Brady or some one in the neighborhood discovered that the roof was on fire, probably from flying sparks, and an alarm was immediately sent to the department.

The flames had gained good headway and the fire was too far advanced when the department arrived to use simply the chemical. It was possible to get out most of the clothing of the members of the family and a part of the furniture was saved without injury. There will, however, be a considerable loss on furniture and the house itself was badly damaged. The walls are in fair condition but the roof and all the upper floors are practically destroyed. Mr. Brady's idea of the damage is $2,500 to the building and that his own loss on furniture and furnishings will total almost the amount of his insurance, which is $2,000.

Unlike some people who suffer fire losses, Mr. Brady takes the happening more than philosophically, for he thinks how fortunate it is that fire did not occur at night or on a windy day. Some of his neighbors share this feeling because the houses are located somewhat near together on Sandusky street. "Another thing," said Mr. Brady, "is that I had no idea how generous and thoughtful neighbors and friends could be under such circumstances. I have had invitation after invitation from people offering to take care of us until we find a temporary home, and I certainly have appreciated these expressions of friendship and good will."

WILLIAM NUNES KILLED ON RAILROAD TRACKS

C. & A. TRAIN CRASHED INTO VEHICLE IN WHICH HE WAS RETURNING FROM A COUNTRY
TRIP

Accident Happened at the Myrtle Street Crossing—Unfortunate Man Was in Storm Buggy and Undoubtedly Failed to See Oncoming Train—Deceased Had Lived All of His Life Here and Had Been Successful in Managing Large Business Affairs—Inquest Will Be Held Today

William Nunes, one of the best known and most energetic citizens of Jacksonville met his death suddenly Tuesday morning while driving across the Chicago & Alton track just north of the city at the north end of the stock yards. As he started to drive across the track the engine struck his vehicle squarely. He was thrown a distance of fifty feet and died soon afterward.

Mr. Nunes had been into the country and was returning with a coop full of chickens when he was run down by the passenger train just entering the city. He was in a storm buggy which he generally used and since his illness he had been given to deep study and almost oblivious to surrounding objects and he seemed to be unconscious at the approach of the train from what can be learned of those who saw the terrible accident. The horse and front wheels passed over the track and the engine hit the body of the vehicle squarely in the middle scattering the chickens in all directions, killing some and stupefying others.

The buggy was utterly demolished and parts of it scattered all about. Mr. Nunes was found unconscious but with a bad wound on the back of his head. The train was stopped and the unfortunate man taken up but he died in a few minutes. Dr. Crouch was summoned but could do nothing for him as life was extinct. The body was taken to Reynolds' undertaking parlors and an inquest will be held in the court house today. The horse ran with the front wheels of the buggy for some distance but was finally caught not much injured.

Drove At Usual Speed

Trackmen were at work just a short distance from the crossing and it is understood that they saw Mr. Nunes approaching in his buggy driving at the usual speed. It is said that it did not occur to them that he was unaware of the approach of the train. The roadway is such that Mr. Nunes except for the side curtains could have seen the train. Approaching the track from the other direction is different for the view is wholly obscured at one side. The crossing at Myrtle street is near Mr. Nunes' home and he had crossed it thousands of times in past years as he had frequent occasion to drive that way to land owned or operated by him.

Born in This County

Mr. Nunes was born two miles north of the city October 10, 1858. His parents were Emanuel and Mary Nunes. His father was one of the early exiles from Portugal to this country and was a man of fine character. His mother was also an excellent woman. Both died years ago. He grew up and always lived in this community attending public schools and enjoying the advantages afforded all children of his age. He was married Jan. 27, 1878 to Miss Mary Martin who passed away April 23, 1916. Her death was a severe blow to her bereaved husband and he never ceased grieving for her. He is survived by two sons, William and George, both living on Hooper street and in the employ of their father; three daughters, Grace, who has been a faithful home maker for her father since the death of his wife; Lucille, Mrs. Dr. G. G. Lane of Rich Hill, Mo.; and Mayme, Mrs. E. M. Henderson, wife of the city engineer. Four children died in infancy. He also has eleven grandchildren. He leaves two sisters, Sadie, Mrs. John Pires of Sandusky street; Lizzie, Mrs. Charles Sibert of Fruitport, Michigan; two brothers, Emanuel and Antonio, both of this city.

Mr. Nunes was a member of Camp 912 Modern Woodmen, The Maccahees, Rena Tent, No. 12, and the Sociadade Philantropica. He was much interested in Northminster church and a warm friend of Rev. W. E. Spooner who was one of the first at the home to tender his sympathy and counsel. Mr. Nunes was a man of unusual ability as a contractor and farmer. He was able to manage many things at once and that successfully.

Successful in Business

In conducting farming operations and in his general contracting work Mr. Nunes acquired a considerable estate. He had excellent financial standing and thru his bankers always had available the funds necessary for any of the enterprises in which he engaged. He was an especially true and generous friend to those he came to particularly like and there was no limit to which he would not go in the effort to accommodate and aid them.

Mr. Nunes had individual ways and sometimes had been termed a "diamond in the rough." He had a large and generous heart and in kindness to the needy few equalled him in philanthropy. Many times he has paid taxes for poor property owners and it is said that the hungry never went from his door. His operations were such that he kept great supplies of such necessities as flour and potatoes constantly on hand, and thousands of applicants are said to have visited him for relief and received it. This fact thru the years became so widely known that appeals to him from the needy grew, and when "hard times" have come his home was the lodging place of many foot worn travelers and all comers were given a place either at his own table or that of his workmen. Because of the large number of employees Mr. Nunes was for years prominent in political affairs and he was a hard and efficient worker

WRIGHT DIVORCE CASE IS NOW ON TRIAL

Proceedings Involving Well Known
Franklin People Bring Many to Court House—Docket Entries

People in the vicinity of Franklin are greatly interested in the divorce case of Mrs. Mabel Wright against her husband, Oyer Wright, which is now on trial before Judge Jones in the circuit court. Mrs. Wright brought a bill for divorce sometime ago, alleging infidelity on the part of her husband, and naming Mrs. Fay Roberts as co-respondent. In the present trial Mrs. Wright is represented by William N. Hairgrove and her husband by W. W. Wright and John M. Butler. W. T. Wilson appears as attorney for Mrs. Roberts. A large number of Franklin people are in attendance and the witness list is a long one.

In her bill Mrs. Wright cites a particular date when she charges that early in the evening her husband was seen leaving a house in their neighborhood by the rear entrance and that Mrs. Roberts left the residence by the front door. It is the claim of Mr. Wright, made thru his attorneys and on the witness stand, that this charge is untrue and that he can establish an alibi on the date mentioned. He was on the witness stand for a considerable period Tuesday afternoon. It is understood that Mrs. Roberts will testify at this morning's session of the court.

The jurors hearing this case include T. E. Jewsbury, Grover Hart, B. D. Cade, Frank Hunter, J. O. Parker, Leonard Dalton, Albert Umken, A. E. McCutley, Elmer Nicholson, William Douglas, Richard Standley and Joseph Fanning.

Other Cases
In the suit of Lawton Moore by his next friend, Henry Moore, against M. S. Zachary, trespass on the case, the jury brought in a verdict fixing the amount of damages at $1,000. As previously mentioned, this was a friendly suit in which agreement had previously been made and the trial was gone thru with for the purpose of establishing the court record.

In the case of C. E. Campbell vs. A. C. Baldwin, et al., the report of the sale was approved and complainant's solicitor's fees fixed at $100 and guardian ad litem's at $25. Motion was made by A. C. Baldwin as trustee to vacate and set aside the amount of the complainant's solicitor's fees as allowed.

In the case of Bertha Samples vs. Charles Samples, a decree was entered granting divorce on the ground of desertion.

AFFAIRS AT FT. SHERIDAN.

Stuart Russell came down from Chicago yesterday to spend a few days in Jacksonville before returning to Ft. Sheridan. He has been at the army training camp but so much organization work is still necessary that it will be a number of days before actual training can begin.

Thru sources other than Mr. Russell it is learned that there is a great deal of dissatisfaction over the manner in which applications for the officers training camps have been handled. There has been a great deal of confusion and undoubtedly hundreds of applicants have been received who should have been turned down and other hundreds who should have been accepted have not been called. It seems that the recommendations made by Col. Lewis the examining officer at Springfield, have been practically ignored. In St. Louis a considerable number of business men were persuaded to arrange their business affairs and go to the camp and now it seems that none of them have been accepted.

AT OPEN AIR SCHOOL.

During the opening exercises of the open air school Tuesday morning Miss Frances Cox, children's librarian, told the children two stories, "The Sleeping Princess" and "Epimondan and his Auntie." The children were keenly interested in the narration and the visit of Miss Cox was much appreciated.

Dr. C. W. Carson, the Chicago Specialist, who has visited Jacksonville every month for 211 consecutive visits, will be at the DuLap Hotel Wednesday, May 23rd, where his consultations are free. His many cured patients in this locality are his best reference.

The time of the funeral cannot be made known until the arrival of some of the non-resident relatives.

THE S. MAUVAISTERRE STREET PAVING

Editor Journal:

And now comes a groan from one of our commissioners because the proposed paving of South Mauvaisterre street will mean a double burden for the people on South Main street. South Main has to be repaved immediately, he says. And what if it does, say we. Can't the property owners on South Main afford the luxury? If not, then let it go, and pave South Mauvaisterre first.

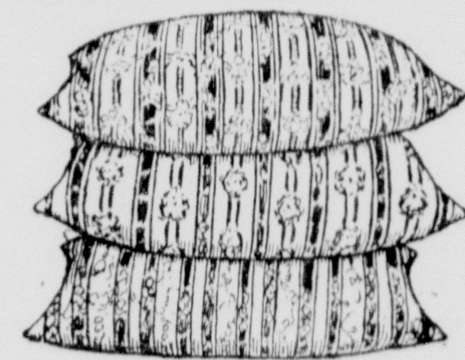

Is it not about our turn now? For years the residents on South Main have enjoyed all the available municipal privileges. For years the residents on the "back" street have been waiting and begging for them, and getting them—not. We have no paving, no water on the street, not even a plug for fire protection. And until a few years ago, no sewer and no sidewalks. And we have had to suffer simply because the property owners on South Main, being already in affluence, as it were, have objected to all improvements of our fronts on South Mauvaisterre as an extra burden upon themselves.

Yet I want to say that the people on South Mauvaisterre are no less human than those on South Main. We have been paying taxes for things we have not been getting. We are supposed to be living in a prosperous city, near its heart, too, yet we actually have fewer advantages than many who live outside the corporation limits.

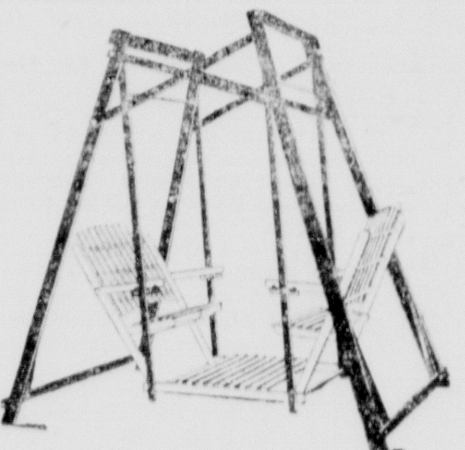

Up to this time, appeals to the various administrations have been in vain. This is the first prospect we have had of anything more than crumbs. This is the first promise of paving superior to bricks, and sidewalks better than cinders. And then, just as we are about to come into our own, out steps the champion of the people who live with their backs to us, and wants to turn us down again.

There are a few people in this city that we wish had to put up with what we have had to put up with for years. Would they do it? Of course, if we don't like it, I guess we can move.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease.
Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarrh Medicine was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known,

Suffered Great Pain!

Letter Tells of Long-looked-for Prescription.

Dear Mr. Editor—I am making a personal appeal to your readers who are suffering with kidney and bladder trouble and rheumatism, to give up the use of harsh salts, or alcoholic kidney medicines and in their place take a short treatment of "Anuric" and be convinced of its wonderful virtues as I was. I suffered great pain, had a great deal of irritation, water became foul. I tried everything advised but with no results.
I sent for a box of "Anuric Tablets" and soon discovered that they brought relief.
I have used them since, and now the water is natural, my health good, and appetite splendid. Some of the doctors pronounced my trouble enlarged prostate.
Now I have no more trouble and I most assuredly feel that this latest discovery of Dr. Pierce's is the best remedy for bladder and kidney troubles that I know of. If I can induce anyone to give it a trial, I feel that he will thank me for calling attention to this great boon that relieves this seemingly worst of all troubles that human flesh can fall heir to. (Signed) H. H. FLEISHER.

NOTE: Up to this time "Anuric" has not been on sale to the public, but by the persuasion of many patients and the increased demand for this wonderful healing tablet, Doctor Pierce has finally decided to put it into the drug stores of this country within immediate reach, or send 10 cents for large trial package.
Simply ask for Doctor Pierce's Anuric
Tablets. There can be no imitation.
Every package of "Anuric" is sure to be
Dr. Pierce's. You will find the signature on the package just as you do on Dr.
Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the ever-famous remedy to ailing women, and
Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, proven by years to be the greatest general tonic and re-constructer for any one.
At any rate don't give up hope of being cured of your malady until just a few doses of "Anuric" have proven that it will make you feel like a different person.

COMMITTEES NAMED FOR DECORATION DAY

Purpose is to Have Day Observed With More Than Usual Exercises—Parade Will be Feature.

The Decoration Day committee is busily at work and good progress is being made. It has been decided to have a change this year and a new departure. In the first place, as many of the veterans are getting old and unable to walk far it has been decided to make the occasion one for a grand automobile parade and to that end all citizens of the city and county are cordially invited to join in and help make the day a fine success.

E. E. Crabtree of the banking house of F. G. Farrell & Co. has been appointed chairman of this feature and all persons willing to join the procession are asked to report to him and the more the better. It is probable that there will be a somewhat extended line of march, or wheeling and suitably decorated automobiles will look fine in the parade. All particulars regarding this feature will be supplied by Mr. Crabtree.

It has been decided to begin the services promptly at 2:30 p. m. and every effort will be made to finish in an hour and it can doubtless be done. GREGORY FARM ANIMAL NOW GRAND CHAMPION

Berkshire Hog Bought by Western Man at Low Figure Sold Recently for $3,000—Plans Made for Decoration Day—Other White Hall Notes.

White Hall, May 15.—In 1914 A. B. Humphrey of Escalon, Calif., attended a public sale of Berkshire hogs at Gregory Farm, White Hall, and purchased for the small sum of $75.00 the Berkshire boar Grand Leader II, an animal that then attracted mediocre attention. Mr. Humphrey took the animal to his Grape Wild Farm in California, and gave it all the needed attention for its proper development, little realizing that it could become a grand champion. Grand Leader II was one year old at the time of purchase. He was put in show condition and became a winner, and at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco was awarded the title of grand champion. Now comes word that Mr. Humphrey has sold Grand Leader to Milton R. Thomas of Douglassville, Mo., for the sum of $3,000, the deal netting Mr. Humphrey three thousand percent over his original investment. The transaction came to the attention of Gregory Farm at White Hall thru the purchase of Royal Superbus to replace Grand Leader herd of Berkshires, and Royal Superbus was shipped this week to his California home. The purchase price for this promising son of the great Gregory Farm boar Superbus, is $1,000.

Decoration Day Arrangements at White Hall.

White Hall has arranged for the fitting observance of Decoration Day on Wednesday, May 30th, in keeping with the world events of the day. The program will be held in the Whiteside Park both afternoon and evening, the principal address being delivered in the afternoon by Hon. C. J. Doyle of Springfield, and at night there will be an address by J. L. Wendell. At 6 p. m. there will be a parade of school children, band and drum corps, veterans of the Civil and Spanish American wars, citizens and decorated automobiles. The executive committee consists of Mayor T. C. Boehm and the directors of the G. A. R. post having relinquished all connection with making any of the arrangements other than to offer their services as participants. The various committees have been chosen as follows: Finance, A. M. Seibus, Dr. L. O. French, E. C. Boehm; music, Emma Duncan; band, C. M. Fox, Myron Ellis; martial band and drum corps, Allen Brannan, Joseph Brink, Harve Goodall; grounds and decorations, Marcus North, W. W. Davis, J. W. Campbell; marshals, L. L. Seely, Simon Venderheyden, Miss Helen Strang; parade, L. B. Ballow, R. G. Smith, C. A. Ruskel, J. E. Wyatt, Lee Vinyard, Louis Lowenstein.

American Railroad Men Going to France.

S. V. Rowland of Red Wing, Minn., spent Sunday with his brother, Lee Rowland, in White Hall, and departed that night on his return to Minnesota. He spent Saturday and part of Sunday in Woodhouse, where his wife has been for some time with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. B. B. Lang, and she accompanied him on his return. Mr. Rowland is division superintendent on the Chicago Great Western road, and has been selected as one of a number to constitute a railroad engineering corps for immediate service in France as a member of the Third Regiment, holding the rank of first lieutenant. President S. M. Felton of the Chicago Great Western, formerly president of Chicago & Alton, has been named by President Wilson to mobilize nine regiments of expert railroad men to be sent to France, each regiment to contain 994 officers and men. These men are being carefully picked, and include conductors, brakemen, engineers, firemen, operators, train dispatchers, bridge and section men, as well as superintendents. Each division is to be complete for handling one division of one hundred miles of railroad. This army of picked American railroad men will be conveyed to France at the earliest possible date, one detachment leaving June 1st, another July 1st and a third on August 1st. Mr. Rowland will resume his regular duties in Red Wing and St. Paul until his regiment is called out. Next to financial assistance the great immediate need in France is that America can supply is this division of railroad builders and operators. While their duties are in no sense military, yet their necessity and purposed accomplishments behind the lines and ahead as advancement of the lines continues are as great as regular fighting men, and world's recognized best will soon be on their way to supply this need.

The gossip with reference to the abandonment of passenger service on the C. & A. now has it that trains 22 and 33 are to come off between Bloomington and St. Louis, and 3 and 16 between Chicago and Kansas City. The C. & A. is contesting the order of the government to curtail the number of passenger trains on the leading roads on the ground that their train service between the leading terminals does not involve as many trains as its competing lines. The new order is to be put into effect early in June.

ORGAN CONCERT THURSDAY. Thursday evening, May 17th, at 8:15 o'clock, in Music Hall at Illinois Woman's college, will occur the recital for the certificate in organ by Miss Winifred Sale. An interesting and varied program has been prepared and all are cordially invited to attend.

Fred Davey, head clerk in the office of the Railway & Light Co., has returned from a brief Bloomington visit.

DOG LAW WOULD GIVE NEEDED PROTECTION

S. A. Bracewell Writes of Losses Which Came From Worthless Dogs—Favors Strict Legislative Measure.

Editor Journal:

I noticed in a recent issue of The Jacksonville Journal that the May-raville Business Men's Association have sent a petition to a number of our legislators for the enactment of a new dog law. I am heartily glad to know that I live in a town which has an association of Business men that is broad enough to strive to have a law enacted in this great State that will actually protect sheep men against the murderous and sneaking dogs.

The so-called dog law which we have in this State neither protects nor indemnifies the farmers against the ravages of dogs. On my desk lies a letter from N. C. Coffey, Sec'y. of The Sheep Breeders Association of Illinois, urging me to attend a meeting in Decatur saying that if the sheep men don't get together and "do something" the sheep business in Illinois will soon be a thing of the past.

A farm paper recently sent out among its subscribers a thousand inquiries asking them why they did not keep sheep and 95% of the answers came back, "on account of dogs." Our laws in this state tax the people to pay game wardens to see that our game is protected and punish the man who kills quails and song birds, but I have seen my neighbor's bird dog in the fields at brooding time destroying hundreds of these useful little birds, who were too young to fly away.

Three times in the last few weeks dogs have attacked and bitten people in Jacksonville. And still the dog is free to go where he will. It is inconceivable that in progressive and educated communities men who make their law can be so stupid, selfish or cowardly that they will not deal with this evil. The secretary of agriculture and a great many other government officials as well as the boards of agriculture of various states have directed attention to the fact that it is absolutely essential that every effort possible should be made to increase the amount of food-stuffs in America. The fact has been emphasized strongly by prominent officials that the success of this nation in the present war depended upon the food produced on American farms.

An adequate law such as these men have drafted will serve a dual purpose in this great crisis, namely, to feed and clothe our boys in the trenches and to help the farmer. There have been many attempts made in the past to have dog laws enacted in Illinois but all have failed. Some of our leading farm papers have hinted that our representatives have been afraid of the influence of the "dog lovers" in the cities, especially of wealthy women who carry poodle dogs around in their arms. Shame on any man or woman whose influence reaches out into our legislative halls and tries to prevent the passage of a law which is of such vital importance to our nation. All the food and affection that "dog lovers" bestow on their pets rightfully belongs to our boys at the front. Any man or woman who is so unpatriotic and foolish as to lavish food and affection on a dog knowing that perhaps not less than twelve months our soldiers may be in the trenches starving, deserves to be rated among the traitors to this nation.

I claim to be always of open mind, always ready to listen to the other side of any question and now let the person who thinks his dog has a right to trespass on other people's farms and destroy their stock come forward and show any good reason why this law should not be passed. Let every patriotic man and woman in Morgan county take hold of this proposition our Business Men's Association of Murrayville have undertaken to accomplish and you will surely be doing a great service to our nation.

6 YEARS SEARCH FINALLY REWARDED

Local Woman Finds Long Needed Aid in Tanlac—Troubles Banished

Miss Harriet Doerre, well known young woman of Franklin, Ill., near here, believes all her friends should know about Tanlac, the celebrated new medicine. In view of this fact she made the following interesting statement on May 10:

"I had tried many medicines and had even gone to the hospital in an attempt to gain relief from stomach trouble that had bothered me for six years. I couldn't retain food in my stomach at times and invariably after meals I'd feel bloated and generally distressed for several hours."

"I'm just now finishing my first bottle of Tanlac but already my troubles have been greatly relieved. My food agrees with me better now as I don't suffer so much distress after meals anymore. I intend to continue using Tanlac and I'm sure it will completely banish my troubles."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and the like.

Tanlac is now being introduced in Jacksonville at the Coover-Shreve Drug Co., East Side store, where a special Tanlac representative is explaining the new medicine to the public daily. Tanlac also may be obtained at the West Side store of the Coover-Shreve Drug Co. It is sold in Waverly at the Wyle Drug Co.; in New Berlin at the New Berlin Drug Co.; in Ashland at H. O. Brownback's; in Versailles at A. G. Bates' and in Chapin at F. P. McKinney's.

(The subjoined advertisement has attracted the attention of many business men who have suggested that the message it conveys should be given the widest possible circulation, and some of whom are already giving it circulation through their own channels. In response to many suggestions the advertisement is here repeated and permission granted for its use by other business concerns, Chambers of Commerce, etc.)

"Business as Usual"

That is the slogan that has kept England and her colonies from economic depression during the war—kept their people busy—their industries moving—their business prosperous.

War cannot be successfully waged without internal prosperity. It is important that our buying and selling be uninterrupted. Money should not be hoarded, but exchanged—circulated—kept moving. That process alone will save the country from internal hardship and outward menace.

Luly-Davis Drug Co.

announce their determination to act upon this principle. Our purchases will not be curtailed—but increased. More people than ever will be employed in our store.

We have faith enough in the American public to believe that this course will be generally adopted and that our normal prosperity not only will be maintained but increased during the war and after.

Our advice to the public—respectfully tendered—is this: "Go on buying as usual and lend your surplus to the government."

If everybody does this, the country will be prosperous and there will always be a surplus to lend.
